Workers' Compensation Commission

South Carolina Welcomes All Committee Conference

Historic Charleston, with stately homes and cobblestone streets and lush gardens, is awaiting SAWCA's All Committee Conference, set for November 12th through November 14, 2006 at the Doubletree Guest Suites. On behalf of the South Carolina Workers' Compensation Commission, it will be my pleasure to welcome you to one of the most charming cities in North America.

Charleston is located near the middle of South Carolina's coast at the point where the Ashley and Cooper Rivers meet to form the Atlantic Ocean. It is the state's second largest city, home to beautiful beaches, and features a rich history dating back to 1670.

If you were unable to join SAWCA in Baltimore, please make plans to attend the All Committee Conference. Fall evenings are perfect for strolling Charleston's low skyline, dotted with church steeples and home to fine restaurants and boutiques and art galleries. The old colonial city is made to be seen on foot, with its small shops and streets lined with grand live oaks draped with Spanish moss.

Make plans to join us for the All Committee Conference in November, and mix business with pleasure in a most memorable setting. I'm looking forward to seeing you in Charleston.

Sincerely,
